:At-sik-hata :Nation of :Yamasse-Moors submission to UN Special Rapporteur in the Filed of Cultural rights: Submission to study on intentional destruction of cultural heritage.

18th month 15th day 70 year Yamassic Calendar
[May 28, 2016 of the Gregorian Calendar]

- a. The Impact of intentional destruction of cultural heritage on the enjoyment of human rights, and particularly cultural rights is the following:
 - Deliberate and commercial annihilation and genocide of Indigenous Peoples and their descendants in perpetuity/absolute result is to exterminate Indigenous Peoples and their cultural rights, except if monetary gains, financial industry can be created out of it(i.e. Casinos, Movies, Theme parks, Commercialization of Indigenous Peoples.)
 - The impact of destruction of tangible cultural heritage on intangible cultural heritage is for extermination of Indigenous Peoples.
 - On cultural practices and beliefs is for the purpose of either and/or both: to exterminated the Indigenous Peoples and take that knowledge which was theirs and to claim ownership of it for the purpose of commercializing their knowledge for the benefit of status-quo and/or Europeans.
 - To keep them marginalized and restrict indigenous peoples growing, flourishing and being able to live their culture without fear of discrimination, loss of Human Rights and Loss of Indigenous Rights. Intentional Destruction’s purpose is to destroy and in limited cases monetize and capitalize off of indigenous peoples’ culture, heritage and rights that they and they only are entitled to.

b. Examples of deliberate destruction of Indigenous Peoples Heritage are as follows:

Let's Create this attachement a LIVING Document an Example of Asserting Indigenous Rights on the Planet for ALL to hear and SHOW how the STATE OF NEW YORK AND THE UNITED STATES/ UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, violates Indigenous Rights, Human Rights and International

c) Examples of good practices especially with regard to prevention and protection against destruction see b. above.

d. To Our knowledge the International (and Domestic) Treaties, Conventions, Laws; Domestic Statutes, Codes legislation is in place and published. The problem is not strategies (that is what the United Nations Charter and International Law was created for to provide remedy) the problem is lack of effort on part of the State members to implement/enforce these conventions. Should Indigenous Rights and Cultural rights come into conflict with corporations, transnational corporations whose interest is development of resources first and cultural rights come last. Until that is admitted to by the United Nations and the state members, cultural rights and the destruction of cultural heritage will continue. There is no way that indigenous peoples will enjoy cultural rights if the state members do not honor their contractual obligation/agreement to enforce/provide remedy and recourse to indigenous peoples.

The UNDRIP and the UN International Decade for People of African Descent should be considered cultural rights defenders. The issue is if it going to cost too much money (from the state's point of view) to implement and defend cultural rights, then what is the United Nations going to do to either assist with the financial obligation or make the United Nations mandate that the British Accredited Registry (BAR), The Inns of Court/Royal Courts of Justice, International Bar Association (IBA) inform their members they must provide cultural rights, remedy and recourse regardless of how much it cost the state or Central Banks. Further, if cost is the issue then the Central Banks must change their banking structure which is based on fractional reserve banking. Indigenous peoples are the center of the World Economic System and it cannot operate nor function without them. The fact indigenous peoples are central to world commerce/industry/production etc. proves, that cultural rights defenders must be deemed as important (even more important) than a bank and the banking system – which controls the purse strings of governments, corporations, businesses and countries – must be reduced to safekeeping of finances, not control of a country's purse string. No cultural defenders that may be at risk are safe when Banks, particularly the Rothschilds Bank, Trust and its Control of the world's Banks and finances, are in control. The Bank(s) will choose profit over culture; will The United Nations choose true world freedom of Indigenous peoples/Cultural rights Defenders over Money (sic)/Fiat currency?
