

Planet 50 | 50 by 2030

tackling invisible gender bias

The 2016 theme for International Women's Day is "Planet 50-50 by 2030: Step It Up for Gender Equality". Geneva Gender Champions have pledged to break down gender barriers by taking concrete actions to foster parity and organizational change.

Monday 7 March 2016

2 p.m. - 3.30 p.m

Palais des Nations, Building B, 1st Floor
Library Events Room (B-135)

How are these leaders overcoming their own unconscious bias to inspire others? Which tools are available to disrupt those micro behaviours that lead to gender inequalities in the workplace? Following a dialogue with Gender Champions, Tanya M. Odom will lead the participants through an interactive session taking stock of the recent advancements in neuroscience and organizational psychology, to increase awareness and take actions to tackle unconscious gender bias.

Dialogue with

Michael Møller Director-General, United Nations Office at Geneva

H.E. Mrs. Pamela Hamamoto Ambassador and Permanent Representative of the United States of America to the United Nations and Other International Organizations in Geneva

William Lacy Swing Director-General of the International Organization for Migration

Kate Gilmore Deputy High Commissioner for Human Rights

Tanya Odom Ed.M. is Harvard graduate global consultant, professor, author and executive coach. She has created and conducted hundreds of workshops on inclusive leadership, race/racism and gender equality for the UN, corporate, NGOs, law enforcement and education entities around the world.

Facilitated by

Tanya M. Odom Harvard graduate global consultant, professor, author and executive coach

Invitees not in possession of a UN badge should register by Thursday, 3 March at ggc@unog.ch, bring a valid ID and a copy of this invitation on the day of the event to the Pregny Gate, located at 8-14 Avenue de la Paix, 1211 Geneva 10.